AGH UNIVERSITY PRESS

KRAKOW 2023

The Computer Science Journal is published by the AGH University of Science and Technology, Krakow Poland. The Editors of the Journal are members of the Faculty of Computer Science, Electronics and Telecommunications and the Faculty of Electrical Engineering, Automatics, Computer Science and Biomedical Engineering. The Editorial Board consists of many renowned computer science researchers from all over the world.

The first issue of the Journal was published in 1999. Currently, the Journal is published quarterly, with the main goal to create a forum for exchanging research experience for scientists specialized in different fields of computer science.

Original papers are sought concerning theoretical and applied computer science problems. Example areas of interest are:

- theoretical aspects of computer science,
- pattern recognition and processing,
- evolutionary algorithms,
- neural networks,
- database systems,
- knowledge engineering,
- automatic reasoning,
- computer networks management,
- distributed and grid systems,
- multi-agent systems,
- multimedia systems and computer graphics,
- natural language processing,
- soft-computing,
- embedded systems,
- adaptive algorithms,
- simulation.
